The Lust for Blood is a collection of thirteen grisly short stories written by the author Charmain Marie Mitchell. The stories range in size from 1,400 words to 9,800 and focuses on the complexities of the human mind (with a couple of supernatural tales thrown in for good measure). There is nothing so complicated as a human being and sometimes nothing so horrific! Contents: A Passion for Death - Never published before. A new twist on an old tale. Beecham Manor - Never published before. A ghostly tale from Cornwall. Sometimes Sacrifices need to be made - Previously published story Review: By Diogenes This is a very short tale, but nicely put together. It shows how the craving for fame can unbalance the impressionable mind. The Stalker Previously published story. Review: By Angel Marie Jobe I really liked it the way the drama and suspense keep going and going it was one of the coolest books I've read in a long time By Karen Massari This piece did not come across as a short story, it was more like a bold painting. My heart is still racing from reading it. Punishment Time Previously published story. Review: By Ethel Barkley Courious insight into the mind ! Abuse at any level can have deep seated and lasting consequences. Punishment Time delves into the hatred that can result from such action. All should read as I did after downloading from Amazon. com to my Kindle Fire Scorned Never published before. A tale about when love goes wrong. The Vampire Requiem Previously published story. Review: By Robin E Liston When 252 year old Edward Manning falls in love with Maria,...
